PERHAPS THE PERFECT JACKET

MORE REVOLUTIONARY → THAN EVOLUTIONARY

The Peretto RoS 3 Jacket just might be the perfect jacket. One jacket to do it all. Windproof yet highly breathable. Essentially waterproof yet PFAS-free. Lightweight and with significant stretch for a perfect fit. It even looks premium.

The magic comes from Castelli's 15 years of development of the Peretto (Italian for "perfect") Jacket. The Peretto RoS 3 represents the biggest jump since the original Gabba, thanks to the exclusive new Polartec® AirCore™ fabric with its PFAS-free semi-air-permeable membrane.

In the search for constant improvement, the RoS 3 is more revolutionary than evolutionary. It's significantly more breathable and water resistant than its predecessor. It also has more stretch than its predecessor, which allows for a close-to-body fit without feeling tight. It provides significant ventilation with zippered chest vents as well as a two-way zipper that you can open from the bottom. It is slightly thinner than its predecessor, for milder rides, but adding insulation layers can take you to very cold conditions.

If your cool-weather riding includes showery days, this is the jacket for you. If you avoid rain, or take a shell for rainy days, take a look at the Peretto Air Jacket for even more breathability.

THE ULTIMATE WINTER JACKET

The Alpha 150 Jacket is the jacket made so you can ride all winter long. Comfortably. No excuses.

We set out to make the ultimate winter riding jacket — a singular goal to make the best jacket we could, featuring the best fabrics and innovative construction, and ensuring comfort in the widest range of conditions, including cold and wet.

This jacket is ideal for cold, dry days yet can stand up to everything except all-day driving rain, when you'll probably reach for a rain shell. The fact that it uses recycled yarns and is PFAS-free is a bonus feature of the best winter jacket we've ever made.

The Alpha 150 is the result of 12 years of continual refinement of a concept to keep you warm and dry, both inside and out.

New for 2025, the Alpha 150 Jacket now uses Castelli's exclusive Polartec® AirCore™ fabric for unmatched breathability in a windproof and rainproof fabric. On the inside, Polartec's Alpha insulation provides warmth while enhancing moisture management. The stretchy close-to-body fit means you don't feel like you have a full winter jacket on.

DOES EVERYTHING WELL

Designed to do everything well, for riding in cold and sometimes wet conditions.

Part of the technology comes from the Polartec® AirCore™ fleece-lined 250 g fabric. It's exceptionally warm, with a micro grid inside that traps air for insulation, and fully windproof. It's also exceptionally breathable, with 0.7 CFM air permeability that's unmatched in fabrics providing over 5,000 mm hydrostatic head rain protection (translation: you stay dry). And it's PFAS-free and made from recycled PET.

The other part of the technology comes from Castelli's construction, with two-way stretch for a perfect fit in the riding position, a fleece-lined collar, a YKK® Vislon® zipper providing the easiest on-the-fly adjustment, and 360° reflective bits for visibility.

HOW DO YOU USE YOUR GABBA?

When Castelli invented the short-sleeve Gabba jacket for racing in the rain, it quickly also filled a need for a jacket for fast fall or spring rides where you need core body warmth but traditional jackets are just too warm.

The Gabba was created for racing in the rain, and now the Gabba R does that better than ever. But if you're like most riders who use the Gabba primarily in dry conditions, the DO.DI.CI. is the jacket that was made for you. The fact that the Gabba was created for racing in the rain means that breathability was compromised for water protection. If you're not riding in the rain, then we can jack up the breathability and make a better jacket for dry weather.

The secret is in Castelli's Ristretto technology. Engineered air permeability means that we create fabrics that are mostly windproof but allow a very small amount of air to pass through the fabric, which carries away more sweat to keep you drier. How much air? DO.DI.CI. is Italian for "twelve," as in the jacket providing 12 times the air permeability of the old Gabba. It's like the difference between hanging your bibshorts to dry in a cold, damp room versus in a light breeze.

The fabric is extremely stretchy, so you have unparalleled fit. What about the rain? The fabric won't keep out more than a bit of road spray, but you can pack an Ultra Rain Cape or Squall Shell Jacket in the center pocket if your ride has a chance of rain. Available in both short- and long-sleeve versions.

PERHAPS THE PERFECT JACKET

MORE REVOLUTIONARY → THAN EVOLUTIONARY

The Peretto RoS 3 Jacket just might be the perfect jacket. One jacket to do it all. Windproof yet highly breathable. Essentially waterproof yet PFAS-free. Lightweight and with significant stretch for a perfect fit. It even looks premium.

The magic comes from Castelli's 15 years of development of the Peretto (Italian for "perfect") Jacket. The Peretto RoS 3 represents the biggest jump since the original Gabba, thanks to the exclusive new Polartec® AirCore™ fabric with its PFAS-free semi-air-permeable membrane.

In the search for constant improvement, the RoS 3 is more revolutionary than evolutionary. It's significantly more breathable and water resistant than its predecessor. It also has more stretch than its predecessor, which allows for a close-to-body fit without feeling tight. It provides significant ventilation with zippered chest vents as well as a two-way zipper that you can open from the bottom. It is slightly thinner than its predecessor, for milder rides, but adding insulation layers can take you to very cold conditions.

If your cool-weather riding includes showery days, this is the jacket for you. If you avoid rain, or take a shell for rainy days, take a look at the Peretto Air Jacket for even more breathability.

THE ULTIMATE WINTER JACKET

The Alpha 150 Jacket is the jacket made so you can ride all winter long. Comfortably. No excuses.

We set out to make the ultimate winter riding jacket — a singular goal to make the best jacket we could, featuring the best fabrics and innovative construction, and ensuring comfort in the widest range of conditions, including cold and wet.

This jacket is ideal for cold, dry days yet can stand up to everything except all-day driving rain, when you'll probably reach for a rain shell. The fact that it uses recycled yarns and is PFAS-free is a bonus feature of the best winter jacket we've ever made.

The Alpha 150 is the result of 12 years of continual refinement of a concept to keep you warm and dry, both inside and out.

New for 2025, the Alpha 150 Jacket now uses Castelli's exclusive Polartec® AirCore™ fabric for unmatched breathability in a windproof and rainproof fabric. On the inside, Polartec's Alpha insulation provides warmth while enhancing moisture management. The stretchy close-to-body fit means you don't feel like you have a full winter jacket on.

PERHAPS THE PERFECT WARM VEST

Designed to do everything well for riding in cold and sometimes wet conditions.

Part of the technology is coming from the Polartec® AirCore™ fleece-lined 250gr fabric. It's exceptionally warm with a micro grid inside that traps air for insulation along with full wind proofness. It's exceptionally breathable with 0.7cfm air permeability that's unmatched in fabrics providing over 5000mm hydrostatic head rain protection (translation: you stay dry). And it's PFAS-free and made from recycled PET.

The other part of the technology is coming from Castelli's construction, with the two-way stretch helping perfect fit in the riding position, a fleece-lined collar, a YKK Vislon® zipper providing the easiest on-the-fly adjustment and 360° reflective bits for visibility.
